

Rev. Danny Lee

In 2019, Danny received his ThM degree with emphasis in Leadership Studies from Dallas Theological Seminary. He has since been accepted into the Doctor in Ministry program in the Church Health, Leadership, and Multiplication cohort at DTS.

In May 2021, Danny was certified by Tulsa International Baptist Church with the license to preach for the Gospel Ministry, and in June of the same year, he was ordained as a practicing minister by Chinese Baptist Church in Houston, Texas.

In addition to his service at Sugar Land Chinese Baptist Church and Houston Chinese Baptist Church, Danny has also been active in a parachurch ministry called 'Pioneers for the Next Generation (明日之光); the goal of which is to influence and encourage individuals to get involved in God's ministry programs to support the ministry field for future generations. Danny is one of the founding members of this ministry and has served as the ministry director since 2011. Beginning in 2017, Danny also served our LORD as an itinerant preacher, supporting the pulpit needs of Houston Chinese Baptist Church as well as various local churches.
